Fire Claims Mother, Six of Children

CENTERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Fire claimed the lives of a mother and six of her seven children and destroyed their six-room home just outside Centerville's city limits yesterday.

A neighbor pulled Adolph Shelby, 50, an unemployed former night watchman, from the blazing home.

The dead were Mrs. Shelby, 46; Ruby Lee, 28; Mary Fay, 20; Jo Ann, 16; Ruth, 13; Danny, 9; and Elaine, 6.

Another son, Wallace, 12, was found the night at his grandmother's house nearby.

The father, who slept on a partitioned-off section of the large front bedroom, said he awoke "choking on smoke."

His rescuer, Doyle Bowen, about 28, said the house was near collapse when he broke the glass from the window and pulled Shelby to safety.

"I had to hold him to keep him from going back into the house," Bowen said.

Officers said that fire apparently started in the livingroom from the heater or from a defective flue.

Senators to Vote on Civil Rights March 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee voted today to bring civil rights legislation to a vote March 5. It was a major defeat for opponents of the legislation who have followed a strategy of seeking to delay action.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), subcommittee chairman, announced the vote was 4-2.

Hennings said he is prepared to hold public hearings six days a week from now to the day the subcommittee acts, and would seek Senate permission to meet at 4 p. m. EST.

He said this would permit 14 days of hearings, and "we'll have as many hearings as possible." It would proceed to vote on March 5 regardless of how many it is possible to hold.

Subcommittee approval would send the civil rights measures to the full Judiciary Committee.

Finds It Wonderful to See Students Happy

By HAL BOYLE

College today is a great guy. Don't let anyone tell you he's just a spoiled, rotten, teen-ager who thinks life is simply one long grand ride on golden roller skates.

I came out here to teach Joe College something, but the real result, I feel, is that I have learned a lot from him. There is nothing like a visit to a modern campus to make an old grad feel young and immature.

It is that custom at Southern Illinois University here O bring working newspapermen in periodically to talk to the student journalists. The victim is now as the Elijah Lovejoy memorial lecturer.

Lovejoy, an early abolitionist, was an editor who was shot to death by a mob in Alton, Ill., in 1837. Just why they brought me here I am not sure, unless it was to prove—120 years late—that he shot the wrong news-

Sentence of Leggett Is Affirmed

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed the death sentence of Emmett Earl Leggett for the strangulation slaying of Joe King, 14, shortly before Christmas 1955.

The death date fixed for Leggett, pasted while his appeal from Pulaski Circuit Court was pending, is now will be up to Gov. Orval Faubus to fix a new date unless he should commute Leggett's sentence.

The body of King, whose stepfather was a Little Rock Air Force non-commissioned officer, was found in a thicket near Jacksonville, Dec. 27, 1955, four days after the boy had disappeared.

About a month later Leggett, then 19, was arrested, originally for the alleged beating and rape of two teen-agers.

Today's Supreme Court opinion recounted that Leggett confessed the King slaying.

"Leggett said that King refused to engage in an act of sexual perversion and, he killed the boy for fear that he would report the matter," the opinion noted.

Leggett was tried for first degree murder in King's death and the Pulaski trial jury found him guilty and fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair.

Rape charges still are pending. The Supreme Court rejected several points for reversal, including

Segregation Bills Big Items in Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — As the Arkansas General Assembly entered a new week today, one thing appeared pretty sure — the Senate traversal anti-integration bills he overwhelming vote of approval in the House.

However, the bills apparently still have the support of majority of senators.

A Senate public hearing on the measures will be held tonight in the House chamber. Several segregation leaders have declared they will be present to urge passage of the bills, which are designed to retain segregation in Arkansas public schools.

But still opposition to the measures has been growing ever since the House rammed them through without debate and practically without dissent.

One of the measures would create a state Sovereignty Commission, with extensive investigative powers. Theoretically, this group could resist the U. S. Supreme Court decision against school segregation.

Another bill would drop requirements for compulsory attendance in integrated schools and a third measure would permit school boards to use school money for attorneys in fighting integration suits.

The fourth bill — and the one which has stirred up the most active opposition — would make certain activities register with the state and report on income and expenses.

This latter measure apparently was designed to lighten regulation of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Arkansas. But it has drawn fire from ministers and church groups who felt that they would be forced to produce their records of collections and expenditures on call.

Churches at Little Rock, Hot Springs, Crossett, Arkadelphia, Conway, Ozark, Rogers, Van Buren, Booneville, Monticello and in Benton County have announced they will dispatch delegations to the public hearing on the bills tonight.

Jim Johnson of Crossett, segregationist who was defeated in the gubernatorial race last year by Gov. Orval Faubus, has said he is studying the measures but would have no comment on them until after the hearing.

Several Little Rock ministers criticized the bills in sermons yesterday and six Crossett ministers said they had written to Faubus, urging his help in defeating the measures.

The six ministers were the Rev. Ronald K. Campbell, the Rev. T. E. Hogue, the Rev. James C. Buckner, the Rev. John B. Hefley, the Rev. H. D. Brokins and the Rev. J. W. Buckner. They represent various Protestant churches.

A Little Rock father and his young son drowned in the White River near DeWalls Bluff yesterday, pushing Arkansas' violent death toll to 16 for the week which ended Sunday midnight.

The toll also included eight traffic deaths, another drowning, three fatal shootings, a death in a farm accident and an accidental strangulation.

The double-drowning near DeWalls Bluff turned a careful family outing into one of tragedy.

Elton (Buck) West, 22-year-old salesman, took his son Wayne, 10, his 7-year-old daughter Donna, and his sister, Mrs. James Grant, of Mot Springs, for a motorboat ride while Mrs. West remained on the bank.

A few minutes later the craft overturned.

Dr. Roy Lamm, a North Little Rock physician, and his wife came along in their motorboat and saw Wayne and Mrs. Grant in the water. Lamm threw out four life preservers and plunged in the swift current. He said he had just pushed the survivors into the hands of Mrs. Grant and Wayne when he was horrified to hear cries of "daddy, help!" from beneath the overturned boat.

Lamm struggled to raise the boat but gave up in exhaustion. Meanwhile, a boat driven by Jimmy Mosley of North Little Rock came up and Mosley dived into the water, learned that Donna was under the boat, and succeeded in lifting her. He took her to shore.

Lamm said he swam to Wayne's life preserver but apparently the boy had lost his hold on it. He had disappeared.

Death Ends Career of Josef Hofman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Death has ended the long and varied career of famed pianist Josef Hofman. The Polish-born musician celebrated his 81st birthday Saturday at 81 in a Los Angeles nursing home. Physicians blamed a heart attack for his death. He had been hospitalized only four days.

Hofman's genius included such achievements as:

President in Close Touch With Affairs

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today kept in "very close touch" with Washington on the Middle East crisis. He was reported ready to return to the capital "any time he should decide it necessary."

Eisenhower conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone again this morning and also studied written reports on the Middle East situation sent to him from Washington by Dulles.

Those developments were in the wake of his new appeal to Israel yesterday to get out of Egypt. At the same time he told the Israeli government it already has received "the maximum assurance it can reasonably expect at this juncture" in the way of safeguards against Egypt.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said at a news conference he had been getting inquiries "on an awful lot of rumors" dealing with the Middle East crisis.

One published report, Hagerty said, was the President was planning to go before the United Nations General Assembly to discuss the Israeli-Egyptian situation and perhaps make some dramatic proposal.

Eisenhower came to Thomasville Feb. 8, as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. At that time indications were he would stay a week or 10 days.

Nunn Explains Local Tax Setup to Club

City Attorney, Mr. C. V. Nunn, Jr., talked to the Hope Business and Professional Women's Club last week at Hotel Barlow on the subject of taxes, stressing city and county taxation.

He discussed the necessity of a Sewerage Tax for the City of Hope, pointing out that, for years, the civic expenses had been met by the Hope Water and Light Plant. Now, however, the plant needs a reserve fund to meet this contingency. Our City Council has set up a committee of citizens to handle this problem; the Council has economized in an effort to give the usual service to the citizens.

Since Hope cannot draw upon the income of the Hope Water and Light Plant for the money necessary to give such service, and the civic expenses demand more than the city can collect, there must be developed a further source of income.

Mr. Nunn pointed out that Hope is fortunate compared to other cities in Arkansas, in that we have never had any form of city taxation. The Sewerage Tax is not really a "tax," but a service charge.

At the City and County level, Mr. Nunn said that if every citizen of Hope and Hempstead County declared his property as legally required, we would have the best school system in the state of Arkansas.

He would not need to ask for an increase in the millage rate on March 16. We pay 52 mills on each $1.00, or $5.20 on each $100, of overvalued property. Of this $5.20, 35 now go to our schools. The desired base is 20% of current value of property.

He asked how many knew a citizen should declare his cash on hand, stocks and bonds, all livestock, all methods of transportation, all grains for feeding or for sale, cotton, TV sets, refrigerators, deep-freezers, air conditioners, radios, washing machines, as well as tools, household furnishings, land, farm machinery and office equipment.

If each of us declared all these, as we are required legally to do, Mr. Nunn stated that the city of Hope would have more than enough income to meet all its needs.

He closed his talk with the reminder that our talk with the council is not the job of properly evaluating our property unless we as voters demand that they do so and support them in their efforts.

Of every dollar sent to Little Rock in the form of taxes, we are lucky that to have returned to Hope. If the dollar of taxes goes to Washington, D. C., we can expect an even less amount returned to us. Of every dollar paid into Hope and Hempstead County, we keep 100 cents of it right here.

70 Aged Persons Perish in Rest Home in Missouri

By ALLAN MERRITT & GEORGE SIERLY N

WACRENON, Mo. (AP) — Smoke and steam still rose today from the smoldering ruins of an old home which was turned into a funeral pyre in minutes for at least 70 persons by a racing fire yesterday.

Seventy of the 155 inmates, including 45 women, were reported missing.

The fire and explosion took its toll in a matter of minutes. One eyewitness said it seemed the entire two and one-half story brick building was aflame in three or four minutes. Another said it couldn't have been more than 15 minutes.

Searchers poured water on sections of the ruins today and then continued to probe through debris for bodies. They had recovered 10.

Survivors of the tragedy were given a breakfast of soft boiled eggs, oatmeal, bread and coffee or milk in their temporary quarters in the home's administration building. The food was cooked in the high school cafeteria about two blocks away.

Mrs. Bernice McDaniel, a nurse's aid who was on the second floor when the fire broke out, said she could recall only two Sunday visitors on her floor. She didn't know whether they escaped.

Heavy Rains Hit Big Area in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Heavy rains drenched the drought-seared Texas Big Bend country the lower South Plains and parts of the lower Rio Grande Valley over the weekend and more rain was forecast today.

At least eight deaths, including seven traffic fatalities, were blamed on the weather.

A southwest Texas county agent called the rains the best in his area in seven years. But State Agriculture Commissioner John Quidt said precipitation was not general enough to be considered even a partial break in the long drought.

He did say the rains in some parts approached a more normal pattern for February for the first time in six or seven years.

Almost all of the country around Alpine received an average of half an inch yesterday after Saturday's downpours that ranged up to nearly 4 inches.

Plight rains also fell yesterday at Brownsville. Streets were temporarily flooded in that Rio Grande Valley city Saturday when a 4-inch rain soaked the area.

Frank Newsom, county agent for Jeff Davis and Brewster counties in far west Texas, said the rains in his area were the biggest ever recorded for February or at least as far as he could remember.

"The value is unknown because this country normally does not receive rainfall in February, March called the rains the best over-all precipitation in the area in all least seven years.

A small tornado struck the Stuart community near Harlingen in the Rio Grande Valley. It knocked over small buildings, trees and utility poles, but no one was injured.

U. S. Abandons Effort to Get Israeli Out

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States virtually washed its hands today of efforts outside the United Nations to win Israeli withdrawal from disputed Middle East territories.

After an all-out weekend by which the White House said brought no agreement, President Eisenhower bluntly told Israel it now has "the maximum assurance it can reasonably expect at this juncture, or that can be reconciled with fairness to others."

"That was a key phrase in an 800-word statement authorized by the President at his Thomasville, Ga., vacation headquarters. He wound it up with a new appeal for Israeli corporation with the United Nations, declaring:

"The United States, for its part, will strive to remain true to its efforts to sustain the purposes and principles of the charter, as the world's best hope of peace."

Israeli officials said, however, their talks with American officials are not at an end. Despite the air of finality about American pronouncements, Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban said he expects to meet again with Secretary of State Dulles "but no date has been fixed."

While the main U. S. effort was shifting to the U. N. at New York City, Dulles' door still was open to Eban if his government wants to change its mind about holding on to the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area called Sharm el Sheikh.

Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, said last night Israeli troops would evacuate Sharm el Sheikh in an hour if the United States guaranteed free shipping to all nations in the Gulf of Aqaba.

In nationwide TV appearance, she proposed three other possible solutions: (1) a similar guarantee by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan, which border the gulf, (2) stationing of U. N. police forces at Sharm el Sheikh to prevent harassment of ship shipping, and (3) an Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty.

Fred Jones, about 50 Negro of Hope, was fatally injured early Saturday morning when the car in which he was riding overturned several times on Highway 67, some 12 miles east of Texarkana.

Booked for manslaughter in connection with the accident was R. C. Maxwell, 30, Hope Negro who was driving the car. According to State Trooper Lee Wilcox the auto was being driven at a high rate of speed when Maxwell lost control, rolling the car eight to ten times. Jones was thrown from the auto onto railway tracks and apparently died instantly.

FLYING FLASH BULB—Hovering over a back yard of the future is an artist's conception of a low-cost vehicle designed to bring short-range flying down to earth in terms of the average income. This proposed solution to the problem of crowded highways has been suggested by an official of the General Electric Company's flight propulsion laboratory in Cincinnati, Ohio. Intended to take the place of the family jalopy, the craft would be fitted with gas turbine-powered "flying fans," similar to those used in present, experimental "flying platforms." The finished design of the vehicle, which would take off and land vertically, has not been determined, but GE spokesmen foresee such a craft in the market within 10 years. It is referred to as the "flying flash bulb," because of its shape.

Israel Asks More of a Guarantee

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The disagreement between the United States and Israel comes down to this: the United States says, "Just us to do our best." Israel says, "Thanks, but we want something more solid than good intentions."

That's the sum total of a week of words and notes exchanged between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles and representatives of the Israeli government.

It would be nice for the UNITED STATES and the UNITED NATIONS—in their quest for Middle East peace—if Israel would withdraw its troops from Gaza and the Aqaba Gulf area, both of which it seized when it attacked Egypt last fall.

It might give Egyptian President Nasser that much less excuse for making trouble in the Middle East. The United States asked Israel to pull back its troops. The United Nations demanded it. Israel refused.

Israel says it won't budget until it guarantees that, once troops are withdrawn, the United Nations guarantees to prevent Nasser from attacking Israel across Gaza or blockading Israel's shipping in the gulf.

No such guarantees have been given by either this country or the U. N. Dulles has talked vaguely of "support" for Israel if her troops pull back. But he's never explained exactly what he means by "support."

Eisenhower has said Israel should "rely upon the resolute-ness of all friends of justice." Since good intentions can get sabotaged or sidetracked, the Israelis are asking any chance. And Israel remembers how helpless the United States has been so far in dealing with Nasser. But the American-Israeli week of words at least postponed for that long a showdown in the United Nations.

A week ago, just before the world organization was getting ready to consider sanctions against Israel if it still refused to budge, Dulles thought up the idea of making the American request to Israel.

Any attempt by the U. N. to use sanctions against Israel would be embarrassing for both the U. N. and the United States. The United States has in Israel, at least one friend in the Middle East. This country helped create Israel.

But neither the United States nor the United Nations believes in trying to force every nation which disobeys U. N. resolutions to back down. Russia ignored the U. N. demand to get out of Hungary and the U. N. did nothing.

When Egypt first began blocking Israel shipping from the Suez Canal some years ago, the U. N. ordered an end to it. Egypt ignored the command and kept on blocking, which was why Israel now insists on guarantees before leaving the Aqaba area.

Since to use sanctions on Israel, but not on Russia or Egypt, would make the U. N. look a little hypocritical, and would leave other small nations open to the same treatment some other time, the U. N. may never try sanctions.

This whole situation was awkward for both this country and the U. N. to find a way out was, obviously, why Dulles stepped in by handing the Israeli ambassador on Feb. 11 a note which, made public yesterday, said: "We believe that Israel's withdrawal from Gaza should be have two small children. Bill, who is an Army veteran, is studying to be a photographer. He has a scholarship and also a part-time job.

A few weeks after Marcia had her second child last summer, she enrolled for the regular fall term in the school of education. She is a straight "A" student, and that means "awesome."

"We have our problems," said Bill. "But this is the best way to live."

All the Joe Colleges I met seemed to have one quality in common—an optimistic confidence that life would turn out well with them.

How different Joe College was in 1932. We were smart-alec and cynical, because in that depression time we felt the world had small use for us.

We tried to make a joke of it and called ourselves, "the unemployedables." We weren't mumbbers of "the lost generation."

That was a few years before us. We were ok the 'get lost' generation. We felt unsure, doubtful of ourselves, unwanted in a job-hungry universe.

I remarked on this to a former classmate who recalls those times as well as I do—Dr. Howard R. Long, now chairman of the department of journalism here.

"It's true these kids are less aimless and cynical than we were," he agreed. "They are more sure of what they want because they feel more sure what they can get."

"That's one reason why they're so willing to get married young. Dream of being big shots. Few of these kids do. They don't have boundless ambition, but they have faith in the future."

"They feel the world's their oyster, whether it's served to them on a platter or not. Most of them are quite willing to work. The main thing is they feel there is a place waiting for them when they leave college."

Maybe youth should always feel troubled and insecure and feed only for a while on impossible dreams. Maybe Joe College today feels too secure and will find he has been living in a fool's paradise.

But I hope not. It is wonderful to see young people happy in the present and confident of the future. Isn't that really how we'd all like to be?

I had half a mind to enroll as a freshman myself—and start all over again.

Marilyn's Husband Cited for Contempt
WASHINGTON (AP)—Playwright Arthur Miller, husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, was indicted today on two charges of contempt of Congress.

The indictment stemmed from Miller's refusal to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities the names of fellow writers with whom he admitted attending Communist party meetings in 1939 and 1940.

Miller denied testimony to the committee June 21, 1956, that he has ever been a Communist or under Communist discipline, but admitted he had been associated with a number of communist-front groups.

The Pulitzer prize winning playwright told the committee he "would not support now a cause dominated by Communists."

In refusing to name persons with whom he attended Communist party meetings, Miller said: "My conscience will not permit me to use the name of another person and bring trouble to him."

prompt and unconditional, leaving the future of the Gaza Strip to be worked out through the efforts and good offices of the United Nations.

"We believe the U. N. General Assembly and the secretary general should seek that the U. N. Emergency Force, in the exercise of its mission, move into this area and be on the boundary between Israel and the Gaza Strip."

That wasn't a guaranteed of anything except an effort by the United States—an effort which might get nowhere—to try to get the U. N. to put its troops in between Egypt and Israel and prevent raids by Nasser.

That wasn't good enough to Israel which in effect, is telling the United States and the United Nations to get up or shut up.

DOROTHY DIX

Boy Wants Hot Rod;
Girl Wants a Ring

Dear Dorothy Dix: Stanley and I have been going steady for six years. I waited for him to get through college and I'm still waiting. He talks marriage, but does nothing about it. He has a job, but spends his money on cars. If he loved me, wouldn't he rather by me an engagement ring? He says he'll be drafted, do his service, then get a nest egg together. After that, marriage—maybe.

Dear Gale: You and Stanley are about the same age, which I judge to be 22. He, apparently, is a very immature 22, while you're quite grownup. Here is the difference in sexes. You are quite capable of tackling matrimonial responsibilities; Stanley is not. He'd much rather engineer a hot rod than a baby carriage.

Perhaps he'll never be different. In that case, you might invest him into marriage but you'd never be happy. He'd be an emotionally unstable husband and you, as his wife, would be the most miserable of women. Study him carefully. Be sure he has the makings of a family man before you marry him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I just obtained a job as companion to a semi-invalid, and I'm bored stiff. The woman is hard of hearing, so there's practically nothing to do but prepare her simple meals. I'd like to get to know some of the other teen-agers in the neighborhood. How can I do this?

Dear Penny: The job scarcely seems suitable for a teenager, but it would be ideal for a middle-aged woman. Why not look for something else to do?

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a widower in my 30's, with two children. Recently I met a widow with four youngsters, who has been quite attentive to me. I don't think he has marriage in mind, but we and one visitor, Mrs. Carl Shockley of Haynesville, La.

Practical Nurses Have Business Meeting

The practical nurses of Hope met February 12 at 7:30 p. m. at the Mayor's office with 10 members present.

The opening prayer was in unison, and during the business meeting a program committee was appointed composed of Mrs. Wessie Pool, Mrs. Wilma Garrett, Mrs. Annie McDowell and Mrs. Lois Steadman. Telephone committee: Miss Emma Hartsfield, Mrs. Maybell Revis, Mrs. Nell Harell; Membership committee: Mrs. Pearl Bright and Mrs. Wells; Entertainment committee: Mrs. Nina Tate, Mrs. Pauline Frazier, Mrs. Virgie Robertson. A committee composed of Mrs. Virgie Robertson, Mrs. Alice Ellis, Mrs. Bonnie Warren and Miss Emma Hartsfield was elected to make up the by-laws and constitution of the Nurses Association.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Pansy Plumley, who gave a discussion on the by-laws and constitution.

The meeting adjourned to meet the 2nd Tuesday in March at 7:30 at the Mayor's office. All nurses and those interested are invited to attend.

U. D. C. Meets in Whitworth Home

The Pat Claborn Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met Valentine Day in the home of Mrs. H. C. Whitworth with Mrs. J. W. Branch as co-hostess.

The lovely Whitworth home was aglow with japonica jonquils and narcissus.

The President, Mrs. Whitworth called the group to order in the reading of the ritual, and Mrs. Jack Hogg led in the salute to the flags.

Mrs. George Wylie resigned as treasurer, due to ill health, and Mrs. J. W. Branch was nominated and elected to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Sam Strong gave the life of Sidney Lanier, the great poet.

A very tasteful dessert plate and coffee was served by the hostesses to those present.

Van Doren Has Missed Several Questions

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Most television viewers believe that Charles Van Dore is just about the brightest young man in America. But did you realize that in his appearances on "Twenty-One" (NBC-TV, Monday, 9 p.m. EST) he has missed six of the 51 questions put to him since he went on the quiz program last November?

Bright he certainly is—and rich to tonight he returns to the quiz program with $133,000 winnings which he would take and by out. But he's been lucky to. On any of the six occasions when he failed to answer correctly, he was saved by the fact his opponents failed to garner as many points.

Let's look at Van Dore's mistakes thus far:

On Dec. 5, when asked to name the three heavyweight champions preceding Joe Louis, he missed Primo Carnera.

On Dec. 19, when asked the have many things in common and spend congenial evenings home or at the movies. Do you think this friendship will jeopardize my chances or remarriage?

Dear Kitty: The friendship does deter you from meeting more eligible men, but it would seem to me that one friend is better than none at all. Don't let this one make a habit of dropping in and don't let yourself be taken for granted. Keep in circulation as much as possible, and don't turn down interesting dates.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I knew Johnny for one month. Then he left for a job several hundred miles away. He wants me to join him and get married. I'm crazy about him. Should I go?

Dear Julie: Wait until the lad can get a vacation and come to you! The shimmering-down period will help you get better acquainted, too.

NEW YORK (AP)—New York waterfront employers and the striking International Longshoremen's Association reached agreement last night on a pact to end the five-day East Coast dock tie-up.

"This contract ensures waterfront peace along the entire Eastern Coast from Hampton Roads, Va., to Portland, Maine," said I.L.A. counsel Louis Wallman.

The actual back-to-work movement of 45,000 dockworkers, however, is conditional on membership ratification of the proposed three-year contract and settlement of thorny local issues in several ports.

Hassles over local port conditions in Boston, Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del., kept local union officials and employer groups in various stages of negotiations. At Philadelphia, both sides were reported stalemated and "still very far apart."

"categories" of a number of dogs he failed to identify. The Doberman pinscher as a "working dog." Dec. 26 was a rough night for Van Dore. He missed two questions involving American elections and was almost dethroned. One was especially difficult. This was it:

"In the election of 1912, the vice-presidential candidate on the Republican party died shortly before Election Day. Who was this candidate, and who was named to replace him?"

The candidate was James S. Sherman and his replacement was Nicholas Murray Butler. Van Dore remembered Butler but could not recall Sherman.

After answering correctly an extremely difficult question on the Apache Warrior Geronimo he was asked to name the four vice-presidents during the 1920's. He correctly identified Thomas H. Marshall, Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes, but he missed Charles Curtis.

On Jan. 9 he had a very close call against a worthy opponent when he failed to identify pinocchio as belonging to the bezzique group of card games.

He made his last error on Jan. 28 when he was unable to identify the obi as an article of clothing worn around the waist.

On Dec. 5, when asked to name the three heavyweight champions preceding Joe Louis, he missed Primo Carnera.

On Dec. 19, when asked the

Betsy Drake Tells of Ship Disaster

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Today for the first time, actress Betsy Drake disclosed her experiences in escaping from the Andrea Doria in last year's ship disaster.

The wife of Cary Grant, Miss Drake has shunned the spotlight in recent years. Although one of the famous survivors of the Andrea Doria, she was not interviewed after the sinking.

"I was too busy taking care of a friend who had been injured," she explained. The friend was Mrs. Vamille Clamfarra, wife of the New York Times man who lost his life in the collision with the Stockholm. Their daughter was transferred to that Stockholm in the crash. Miraculously alive.

Miss Drake detailed her experiences as she visited the met of her husband's picture, "An Affair to Remember." She was returning alone from Grant's film location in Spain. On the night before the New York arrival, she was laying out her clothes for the next day.

"The Grants often took on freighters and make it a practice to have their clothes in readiness at night. Suddenly I felt the impact of the collision, which was on the other side of the ship," she related. "I was in my nightgown, and I decided I had better get dressed."

"It was an eerie feeling to have the ship strike something and then stop. Then the ship lurched to the side with a great noise. People were screaming and there I was standing there with nothing on."

"I might as easily have run out that way. But I managed to get dressed. How, I don't know."

She was told to report to the low side of the ship for evacuation. She climbed down a ladder into a lifeboat which took her to the Ile de France. "I ended up on the Ile de France barefoot and with only a dress," she said. But very grateful.

By The Associated Press
Will (The Stilt) Chamberlain needs 40 points against Oklahoma tonight to regain the individual scoring lead in major college basketball.

That would give the Kansas guard a 30.61 average against a 30.57 mark by South Carolina's Grady Wallace. Both Wallace and Chamberlain's Chet (The Jet) Furtie, No. 3 in the scramble, are idle tonight.

Here's the way the three leaders stand at the moment.

Emmet Girls Win District B Tournament

Coach Malcolm Burnette's Emmet Senior Girls basketball team won the District 7W Class B tournament held in the Emmet Gym last week. Emmet defeated Bradley in the finals Saturday night 40 to 39 and will represent this District in the State B girls tournament to be held at Green briar starting Wednesday night. Emmet will play Greenbrier, winner of District 5N, Wednesday night at 7 p. m. to open the tournament.

Emmet had advanced to the finals by winning over Dierks, Bright Star, Lewisville and Genoa Central. Bradley eliminated Amity, Saratoga, Fouke, and Mineral Springs, to gain the finals.

The championship game was one of the most exciting games ever played in this area and easily the best game of the tournament. Emmet started slow and trailed 17-9 at the end of the first period. Business picked up in the second quarter as Emmet put on a whirlwind drive to lead at the half 25 to 25. The Nevada county lassies still held a 33-31 lead at the end of the third period. Emmet grabbed 4 and Bradley 6 points and it was 37-37 with 15 seconds to play in the game.

Emmet's Barbara Faulkner was fouled and received a 1 and 1. Barbara made the first throw for 38-37, missed the second under the extreme pressure but Daisy Ottwell tipped it in for 40-37. Bradley took the ball and Nancy McGee hit from the field for 40-39, but then it was too late, with too little. Emmet had won another title, and with the smallest squad in the tournament, perhaps the tiniest in the district.

Coach Burnette has 8 players; Juanita Dougan, Barbara Faulkner and Daisy Ottwell, forwards; Rosie Ottwell, Ann Trexler, Clara Dougan, Carolyn Lumpkin and Lorraine Theis, guards. Much credit is due the Emmet guards for holding down the best forwards in the district while the Emmet forwards were tracking up the points.

Daisy Ottwell made 17, Juanita Dougan 16 and Barbara Faulkner 7 in the finals. Nancy McGee scored 22 and LeVerne Burks 16 for Bradley. In the consolation game Saturday night, Genoa Central defeated Mineral Springs 45 to 42 with Rosalyn Frazier hitting 23 for the winners and Helen Hubbard 29 for Mineral Springs.

All district players chosen were Juanita Dougan and Ann Trexler of Emmet, Nancy McGee and Bonnie Fish of Bradley, Rosalyn Frazier and Pat Lurry of Genoa Central, Marie Traywick of Lewisville, Mabel Hill of Fouke, Billy Chandler of Umpire, Helen Hubbard of Mineral Springs, Jane Black of Foreman and Louise Clark of Blevins.

Supt. of Emmet schools Tillman Wilson presented trophies to Emmet, Bradley and Genoa Central and the sportsmanship trophy to Mineral Springs. Miniature basketballs were awarded to the All district players.

Officials for the tournament were Joe Allen, Bud Crowley, and Sonny Nutt. Tournament timekeeper was Joe Weeks and scorekeeper was Peggy Cummings.

Gonzales' Hand May End Career
NEW YORK (AP)—An ugly hand might achieve what the world's best tennis players have been unable to do—knock Pancho Gonzales off his professional throne.

The 28-year-old world champion from Los Angeles disclosed today the recurrence of a hand injury which first struck him in Australia last fall, and he said ominously: "If this thing gets any worse, I'll have to quit the tour."

The tall, swarthy California of Mexican extraction bared his inflamed paw after crushing Ken Rosewall in the Australian's American pro debut before 11,416 at Madison Square Garden yesterday, 6-2, 6-4, 8-2.

The victory took only 60 minutes and sent the pro tourists to Dallas, where the 100-match series will be resumed tonight, with Gonzales leading 8-4.

Promoter Jack Kramer, whose present tour stands to gross more than a quarter of a million dollars, was disturbed over his development but said he expected his big star to continue.

"Pancho has a signed contract with me to play 100 matches," Kramer said. "If he doesn't fill that contract he stands to lose his professional title and with it all the guarantees of future tours."

"If Gonzales is forced out of action—and I don't anticipate it—then we will continue with the men we have, Pancho Segura and Jimmy McNeill and try to get Frank Sedgeman or Tony Trabert. Then we'll match the best available player against Rosewall."

Platinum was used for personal adornment by South American Indians long before Columbus discovered America.

Preparations Started for State Tournament

Hope's brand new Gymnasium, appropriately named Jones Field House, will be the scene of this year's Senior Girls Class A State basketball tournament, starting Wednesday night at 7 p. m.

There will be 3 games Wednesday night; at 7:00, 8:30 and 9:40 p. m. Two games will be played Thursday morning at 10:00 and 11:20 a. m.; two games Thursday afternoon at 2:00 and 3:30 p. m. and three games Thursday night at 7:00, 8:20 and 9:40 p. m. Two games Friday morning at 10:00 and 11:20 a. m. and two games Friday night at 8:00 and 9:30 p. m. and The finals will be Saturday night at 8 p. m.

Admission will be the state tournament uniform price of 30c for students and $1.00 for adults. There are 16 teams entered in the tournament.

Wednesday games pair Emerson, winner of 7E versus Drew Central, runner-up of District 5, at 7 p. m.; England, winner of District 5 versus Monette, winner of District 3, at 8:20; Forrest City, runner-up of District 5 versus Beebe, runner-up of District 2 at 9:40 p. m.

Thursday games pair Alma, winner of District 4 versus Greer Forest, winner of 1E, at 10 a. m. Van Buren, winner of LW versus DeArc, winner of District 6 at 11:20 a. m.; White Hall, winner of District 8 versus Corning, runner-up of District 3, at 2 p. m. Searcy, winner of District 2 versus Waldron, runner-up of District 7W versus Bryant, runner-up of District 5, at 7 p. m.

Quarterfinals will be at 8:20 and 9:40 p. m. Thursday night, and at 10:00 and 11:20 Friday morning. Semifinals will be played at 8:00 and 9:20 p. m. Friday night and the finals Saturday night at 8 p. m.

The Hope Senior girls basketball team, under the direction of Coach Norman Taylor, will be host for the tournament.

Mustangs to Sail Into NCAA Meet
By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist, with its third straight Southwest Conference basketball title, only an owl hoot away, sails into the final two weeks of the campaign this week.

The sixth-ranked Mustangs are pointed toward a Saturday date with second place Rice holding a game and a half lead over the Owls. A victory over Rice could clinch the title for the Mustangs and put them in the NCAA playoffs for the third straight year. The Owls are the only team with a chance to earn a tie for the title.

SMU got to the semi-finals last year before falling before San Francisco, the eventual champions.

SMU knocked off Texas 79-56 at Dallas Tuesday to avenge its only conference loss of the season. Baylor helped the Mustang cause by beating Rice 95-70 at Waco the same night.

Arkansas had its hopes for a share of the title dashed Saturday at Fort Worth when the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian made a early lead stand up before the Razorbacks' strong closing rally. The loss, 64-57, left the Porkers with only a chance at a spoiler's role.

SMU has a 7-1 conference record and a 17-3 season mark. Rice is second in conference play with a 6-3 record. Baylor and Arkansas follow with 5-5 and 4 records, respectively. TCU is fifth with a 2-7 mark.

The Mustangs get things rolling in the conference Tuesday night with a game against neocleer-dwelling Texas A&M at Da las, Arkansas will most Rice at Fayetteville.

Wednesday Texas plays East Texas State at Austin and Texas Christian meets Baylor at Fort Worth.

Other games Saturday find Texas against A&M at Austin and Baylor meeting Arkansas at Waco.

Big Jim Krebs was meld to only 14 points against Texas and dropped out of the individual conference scoring lead. Jerry Mulready of Baylor took over the top spot with 179 points.

Krebs an dRay Downs of Texas are tied for second with 173 each. Krebs remained on top in season scoring with 467 points. Downs was second with 46 and Dick O'Neal of TCU was third with 399.

7W Junior Girls Meet at Willisville
District 7W Junior girls cage journey will start tonight in the Willisville Gym when Guisey meets Lewisville at 8:30. Willisville takes on Mineral Springs at 7:15, and Kirby plays Fouke at 8 p. m.

Other teams entered in the tournament are Garland, Spring Hill, Delight, Foreman, Bright Star, Okolona, Bradley, Murfreesboro, Emmet, Stamps, Umpire and Bodewy.

Second round games will be played Tuesday, quarterfinals Wednesday, semifinal games Thursday and the finals Friday night at 8 p. m.

Heber Captures the Texas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Jay Hebert, the slender young pro from Louisiana won the $20,000 Texas Open with "the only shot that would have done it."

Hebert, 34 playing out of Sanford, Fla., 3-ironed to the green on the 185-yard 18th hole at Brackett Park and sank a six-foot putt for a birdie to beat Ed Furgol, the Andrews, Ill., veteran, by a stroke yesterday. He had a 4-under-par 67 on the final round for a 72-hole total of 271—13 strokes under par.

"It takes a perfect shot on this hole," said Hebert as he accepted the $2,800 check to make him second to Doug Ford in money winning of the year. "I made it and I won."

Hebert, capturing his second tournament of the winter tour—the only player who has won more than one—had staged a glittering duel with Furgol, the man with the withered arm, down the stretch. They sailed through the 17th hole tied for the lead and the big crowd jammed around the 18th green was silent as Hebert stroked the putt that brought him the precious birdie. Furgol parred the hole and won second money of $1,900 with 272.

The Ashdown Pantherettes won the District 7W Class A Senior Girls Basketball tournament held in their own Gym by defeating Gordon 51 to 17 for the crown.

Ashdown had little trouble disposing of Gordon after holding a halftime lead of 26 to 7.

Valentine Adcock scored 23 and Glenna McDowell 20 to lead Ashdown and Wanda Garrett hit 6 for Gordon.

Chosen on the All District team were Judy Ratliff, Linda Ratliff and Alice Noll Burke of Hope, Glenna McDowell, Linda Carver, Gerry Duncan, Valentine Adcock, Frances McGraw and Jane Davis of Ashdown, Mary Shannon of Nashville, Wanda Garrett of Nashville, and Peggy Gentle of Gordon. Glenna McDowell of Ashdown was picked as the outstanding player of the tournament.

The Pantherettes will meet Bryant, runnerup of District 5, in the State Girls tournament to be held in Jones Field House starting Wednesday night at 7 p. m. at 7 o'clock Thursday night.

The largest nugget of zinc ever mined came from Arkansas. The most interesting spot, geologically, in Arkansas is Magnet Cove, where at least 42 different minerals have been found within an area of approximately 5 square miles.

SMU Piles Up Big Lead in Conference

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

They may not have the "mostest," but Brigham Young, Idaho State and Southern Methodist figure to be the "fastest" to nab berths in the NCAA university division basketball tournament.

All three can pile up conference pennants this week while the rest of the major college hoped fust start a string of title show-downs.

BYU can become the first entry in next month's championship eliminations by defeating Utah Thursday and clinching the Sky-line title.

Idaho State can pick up its fifth consecutive Rocky Mountain champions up with nothing more than a split against runner-up Western State in a Friday-Saturday pair.

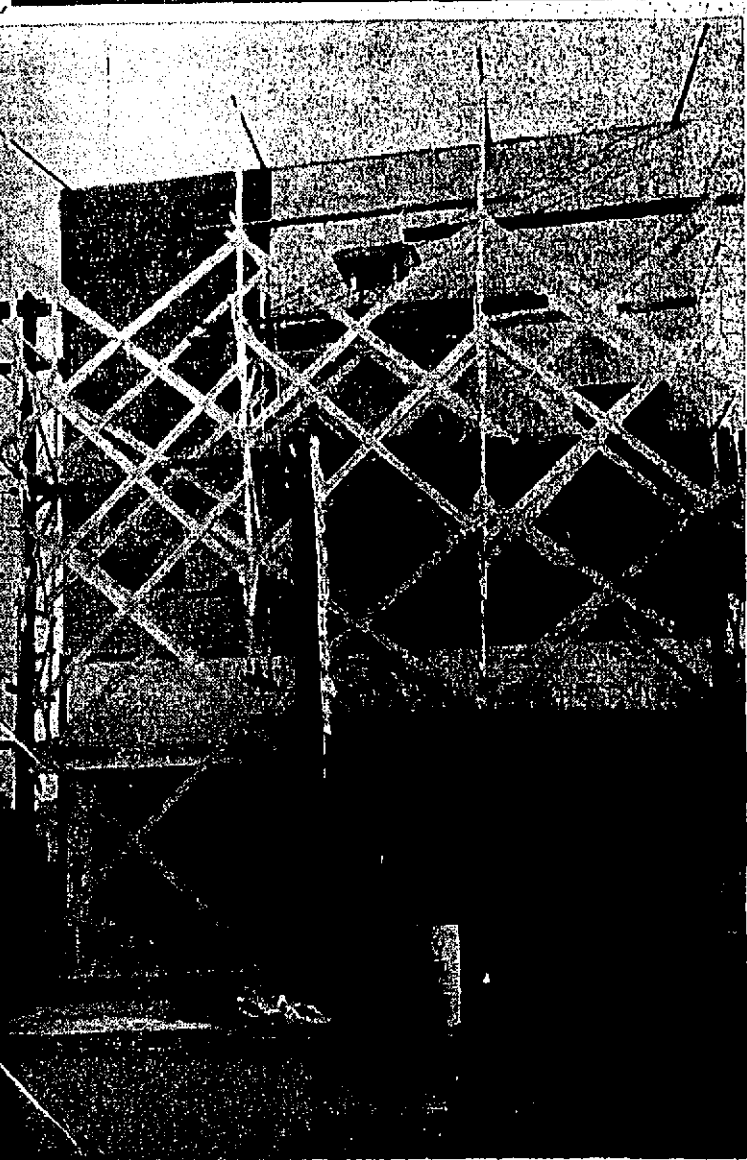

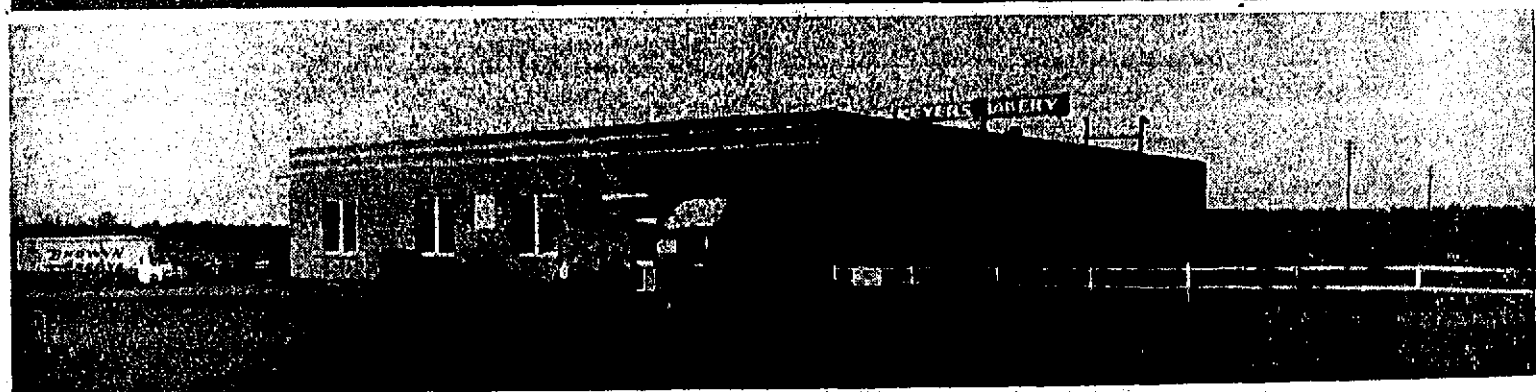

And SMU's Mustangs, who had to wait 17 years between Southwest Conference titles, can make it three in a row by disposing of last-place Texas A&M tomorrow night and then ousting runner-up Rice Saturday.

Other pictures add evidence to Hope's position as the central trading point east of Red River.

What Noted Folks Are Talking About

By United Press

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — President Eisenhower in a special statement concerning actions to ward Israel by this government and the United Nations:

"The United States has renewed its plea to Israel to withdraw in accordance with the repeated demands of the United Nations and a rely upon the resoluteness of all friends of justice to bring about a state of affairs which will conform to the principles of justice and of international law and serve impartially the proper interests of all in the area."

WASHINGTON — A formal Israeli text to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles asking for clarification of U. S. policy on the question of Israel's use of the Suez canal and noting that Egypt has barred for years their shipping from the waterway:

"It is inconceivable that the Suez Canal can be opened by the United Nations and remain closed to any of its member-states."

HOLLYWOOD — Frank Sinatra's lawyer, Martin Gang, commenting on a subpoena served on the actor-singer by three men who entered his bedroom:

"Why, someone might have been killed. Suppose Frank had had a gun handy. There have been two burglaries at his house recently, you know."

CHICAGO — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) opposing the diversion of any U. S. economic aid to the Communist nations of Eastern Europe:

"I shall oppose the taking of a single dollar from the overburdened American taxpayer to build economic strength of any Communist country behind the Iron Curtain or to give military aid to any Communist state anywhere in the world."

WARRENTON, Mo. — John J. Barada, 34, a hardware store owner explaining how he was injured in his rescue attempts during the blaze and explosions that took uncounted lives at the Katie Jane Memorial Home:

The whole ceiling fell in and I landed under a pile of bricks. I felt half the wall fall on me."

WASHINGTON Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles forbidding American newsmen to visit Communist China:

"We can't have a free press, unless reporters are free to go wherever they please. I think it is deplorable that Secretary Dulles is flouting the first amendment."

The green turtle of the West Indies (soups and steaks) sometimes weigh 600 pounds.

Rest Home Was Regarded as a Model

WARRENTON, Mo., (UP) — The old "people's home" that burned here yesterday with a loss of at least 71 lives was regarded by the residents of this area as a model nursing home.

And W. S. (Michael) O'Sullivan, 45, operator of the home, was regarded as one of this small community's outstanding citizens.

O'Sullivan, married and the father of three children, also operates nursing homes in St. Louis, only 45 miles away, Normandy, and Elsberry, Mo.

However, this was his main property and he had spent considerable time and money in recent years to remodel and renovate the home.

He opened the building as a nursing home in 1943 and dedicated it as the Katie Jane Memorial Home in memory of his mother.

The building was constructed in 1895 to replace one also destroyed by fire two years previously. The original structure was a Central Wesleyan College women's dormitory. A college professor was killed in that fire during a rescue attempt.

The nursing home housed 104 patients and O'Sullivan charged the patients according to their ability to pay. He took in aged and destitute persons free and charged other patients up to $200 per month. The home had a reputation for serving excellent meals.

Predicts Passage of ME Resolution

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) predicted today the senate will pass by a margin of more than 25 of the Senate's 96 members vote "no," their action might classify the resolution as "one of those matters it might have been better not to bring up."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have urged a decisive vote for the resolution to demonstrate solid support. The House passed it 355-61.

The Senate is expected to begin debate on the Middle East plan late today after acting on the first money bill before it this session.

Ark-La Expansion Only Routine Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas expansion amounting to six million dollars will not include any single major projects, the company said today.

Ark-La got Federal Power Commission approval for expenditures of six million in the calendar year 1957 to cover numerous small projects including increased delivery capacity at certain cities on the system.

"There will be no increase in the total gas delivery capacity on the main line," a spokesman said. All of the projects were lumped

Grieved by the blaze, could not explain its cause. He thought it might have been started by a male guest smoking in the men's room.

Other witnesses said they heard a series of blasts just before and during the blaze and theorized it might have been touched off by leaking artificial gas used for cooking purposes.

Sentence of allegations that Leggett did not receive a fair trial because of pre-conceived opinions of jurors as a result of wide publicity given the crime and his arrest that he should have received a change of venue and that Circuit Judge William J. Kirby erred in requiring, under his instructions, that the jury find him guilty of first degree murder of acquit him.

On the first point, Associate Justice George Rose Smith wrote for the court that "it is settled by many opinions that a tentative opinion... based on newspaper reports... and the like does not disqualify a prospective juror."

The Supreme Court opinion concluded that "We have painstakingly examined the record and have considered all the points raised. It is our conviction that the appellant received a fair trial and that the court below committed no reversible error in the proceeding."

In another criminal case the Supreme Court affirmed a 10-year sentence for solomy imposed in Crutched Circuit Court, Jonesboro District, against Clyde Marmgrum. The prosecuting witness was a nine-year-old blind boy.

Welcome Rain Hits Most of Southwest

By The Associated Press
Welcome rain continued of fall on some drought-stricken areas in the Southwest today as light snow and snow flurries dusted the northern Great Lakes and generally fair weather prevailed over the seasonably warm heat which covered the central portion of the country moved eastward over the Atlantic Coast states. Meanwhile, chill air across the Northern Plains began spreading into the Great Lakes region. Little temperature change was reported elsewhere.

Some light snow was reported from the Dakotas, Minnesota, through the Great Lakes states and in New England.

Heavy weekend rains which doused Texas' Big Bend country, portions of the lower Rio Grande Valley and the lower South Plains were continuing early today. Rain also pelted the lower Gulf Coast, Arizona, New Mexico and southern California.

Into a blanket authorization although the authorization does not require completion of all by the company.

Federal Power Commission authorization was acquired even though many of the projects are not interstate in nature. Some expansion of field lines at the gas wells is included.
